

SUBSIDIES FOR TRANSLATION SAMPLES FROM NORWEGIAN LITERATURE

Publishers and agents abroad and in Norway can apply to NORLA for subsidies for sample translations from Norwegian books of interest by submitting the form below.
It is possible to apply for funding for fiction and non-fiction for children and adults.
Applications can be submitted for books that fulfill NORLA's criteria for translation subsidies.

The translation must be directly from Norwegian. Sample translations of NORLA's selected titles will be given priority.

Publishers and agents are normally granted funding in the amount of NOK 3-5,000 per title, but applications are assessed individually.

It is the publisher/agent who handles practical matters in conjunction with commissioning and follow-up of the sample translation.

The subsidy will be paid after NORLA has received the completed sample translation. NORLA reserves the right to use the sample translation at book fairs, in meetings with publishers and at various literary events – as well as on NORLA's website, www.norla.no
Publishing house/agent making the application:

Contact for application:
E-mail:
Website:

Author:
Title:
Rightsholder (publisher/agency):
Genre: <input type="checkbox"/> Fiction / <input type="checkbox"/> Crime fiction / <input type="checkbox"/> Poetry / <input type="checkbox"/> Non-fiction / <input type="checkbox"/> Academic literature <input type="checkbox"/> Children's/young people's literature / <input type="checkbox"/> Other.....

Explain why a translation sample has been requested:
Explain how the book fits into the publishing house's publication profile:
The applicant has been in contact with the following individual representing the rightsholder:
Name:	E-mail:

Send the application to hege.langrusten@norla.no and write 'Translation Sample' in the subject field.
Application deadlines: 15 March and 15 September 2018.