Anna is nearly 10 years old and loves to read. She loves reading so much that one of her best friends is the librarian, Monsen. One day Monsen tells Anna what happens to the books no one wants to borrow from the library. The books disappear. The books are destroyed.

But what happens to all those who live inside these books, Anna wonders? Do they disappear too? This is just too much to bear, Anna thinks. She has to save the books! But how?

The arrival of a new football coach means dark clouds are looming over twelve-year-old Lena Lid's goalkeeping career. In the house next door, Trille is wondering how to impress the ladies. Meanwhile, as always, Grandpa is out at sea, looking for the biggest catch of all time and trying not to worry about getting old.

Throughout the course of a year, Lena, Trille and Grandpa will have to battle the forces of nature, as well as themselves. The stage is set for strongly felt emotions and real drama in Mathildewick Cove, the small bundle of houses where they live by the sea.

The Goalie and the Sea is an action-packed return to the quirky lives of the beautifully mismatched friends from the international success Waffle Heart.

Abbie feels like a trapped slave. Everything she does, she feels she is forced into. Every morning she is forced to get up, she is forced to go to school, forced to study things she does not need, forced to live with the nickname Bubble, forced to swap whole milk with light milk, forced to take swim class, and forced to sing in the rotten Christmas choir. She is in the hands of someone else's stupid rules, in a shitty town, in a shitty world.

After her worst school day ever, she finds a mysterious glass globe in the cemetery, with a blanket inside. The globe grows into a big bubble, big enough for her to walk in and out of it...

It is time for the annual swimming day at school, and this is Ruben's final chance to earn his swimming achievement mark. There is only one problem: He can't swim. In order to earn the mark you must be able to swim 25 meters and dive down to the bottom of the pool. Oh, and you also have to save the headmaster, believe it or not. So, in addition to risking his own life, Ruben stands a fair chance of drowning his headmaster too. And although it doesn't sound altogether bad to rid the world of the worst headmaster ever once and for all, it would be a lot better if Ruben himself didn't have to die in the attempt. In order to avoid that, he and his best friend Kent have to devise a plan. How to get out of swimming day – or preferably make sure the whole event is cancelled?

Tonje Glimmerdal is the only child in the valley, and the pluckiest nine-year-old the valley has seen since her now grown-up aunts raised havoc on their skis on the mountainside. Speed and self-confidence is Tonje's motto as she hurtles down the slopes on her skis or her sled. Tonje's best friend is Gunnvald, a cranky old fiddler, who is over seventy years of age. One day, while Gunnvald is at the hospital, a strange lady appears at the farm claiming to be Gunnvald's daughter, and says she intends to sell the farm. Suddenly the world is not as Tonje thought it was, and she realizes that she has to act fast in order to prevent the farm from being sold and get Heidi and Gunnvald back on speaking terms - although Tonje has a bone to pick with his old friend for having kept his daughter a secret.

Trille knows one thing for sure: his great aunt makes the world's best waffles. He is sure, too, that Knert-Mathilde is a wonderful place to live - and that his neighbour, Lena Lid, is his best friend. But he is anything but sure that he is her best friend.

In this charming and humorous debut we follow the escapades of two inventive nine-year-olds through a whole tumultuous year. Trille and Lena know all too well how to create a rumpus and keep things humming. But in between all the frolicking and laughter Trille reveals the sadder and more sombre aspects of his nine-year-old life, and of his fear of losing those he loves.
