The River (Elven)

Illustrated YA Novel | Cappelen Damm | 2018 | 144 pages

The River is a quiet and beautifully illustrated novel about the big and small things that make life difficult for teenage Helena. She feels like she's just washing away, like the water beneath the ice in the river she sees each day on her way to school. Helena wishes she could take up more space, that she could say what she thinks and feels. That she could manage to comfort Dad, or dare to talk to Andreas in the other class. Then one spring day, the ice starts to break – and something dramatic happens. For readers aged 12-15.

Otherwise I'm Not a Human Being (Ellers er jeg ikke noe menneske)

Young Adult Novel | Cappelen Damm | 2018 | 272 pages

Mathilde is fourteen. She doesn't want to go to school. Mom doesn't understand what's going on – even when Mathilde ends up in the hospital. She doesn't have any friends other than a dog named Eddi, and Xiu, her friend she plays with online. But Xiu also has his/her own problems. Otherwise, I'm not a Human Being is about being bullied, but still standing up for yourself, for others, and for the world. And about the fact that most things are the grown ups' fault.

Shameless (Skamløs)

General Non-Fiction | Gyldendal | 2017 | 159 pages

Nancy Herz, Sofia Nesrine Srour and Amina Bile have over the past year collected stories from girls who have personally experienced negative social control. In Shameless they discuss what it feels like to be constantly limited, corrected and shamed, and they share their own experiences on their way towards shamelessness. And their best hijab hacks.

Herz, Srour and Bile started the movement which in the media is referred to as 'The shameless girls', and which really put negative social control on the agenda. For their work for freedom of speech they have, among other things, received the award Fritt Ords Honnør (2017).

Tomorrow Everything Will Be Dark (trilogy) (I morgen er alt mørkt (trilogi))

Young Adult Novel | Cappelen Damm | 2014-2015-2016

This trilogy, selected by Norwegian young adults as the best book of 2015, has shocked and engaged teens in a sensational way. Film rights have been sold.

Tomorrow Everything Will Be Dark is an action-packed story, and a merciless and brutal dystopia realistically depicted in a cross between disaster and a kind of zombie genre. We follow completely ordinary teenagers who are suddenly cast into chaos. Everything that is safe and civilized around them collapses and disappears. They end up as refugees, must make morally impossible and inhuman choices, and yet still have an indomitable will to live throughout all the darkness. And, as the teenagers they are, infatuation and burgeoning eroticism play an important role in life. Norwegian IBBY's Honorary list 2017.

The Raven Rings 1. Odin's Child (Ravneringene 1. Odinsbarn)

Young Adult Novel (series) | Gyldendal | 2013 | 615 pages

Fifteen winters old, Hirka learns that she is not like everybody else. She is a human, a child of Odin – a creature from another world. She has no tail, and she cannot access the magic of the earth. According to legend she is also dangerous, a carrier of disease. Her situation becomes all the more precarious as she realizes that someone powerful wants to kill her to make sure her origin remains a secret. But there are worse things than Odin's kin. Hirka is not the only creature to have broken through the gates. This award-winning epic fantasy trilogy for young adults has pageturner qualities and a clear crossover appeal. The world in which the story takes place, Ymslanda, is clearly influenced by Norse myths, but its inspiration can also be found in feudal Japan.

Almost Autumn (Nærmere høst)

Young Adult Novel | 2012 | 245 pages

Ilse is 15 years old and lives at Biermannsgate 10 in the Grunerløkka district of Oslo. One afternoon while her parents are asleep, she sneaks out of the house in a thin summer dress. It is October and the cold autumn wind tugs at her dress as she walks down Tofte's gate. But she doesn't feel the cold. The only thing that means anything to her right now is that she is going to meet Hermann. The year is 1942. Soon everything will change.

Marianne Kaurin's debut novel is told by five different voices, including that of 15-year-old Ilse. Kaurin writes matter-of-factly and with poetic empathy about how everyday life during the war changes in the most dramatic way when Ilse's family is broken up and deported by the ship 'Danube' to Auschwitz.

Winner of the Ministry of Culture's First Book Prize 2012 and the Young Adult Prize 2013.

Barsakh. Emilie, Samuel and the Gran Canary (Barsakh. Emilie, Samuel og Gran Canaria)

Young Adult Novel (Vol. I in a series) | Cappelen Damm | 2009 | 136 pages

Like most teenagers, Emilie is concerned with her appearance. Clothes and calories occupy her thoughts. She works out every day and eats as little as possible. Every meal is a fight. Now Emilie and her family are going to spend the holidays in the Gran Canary. After lunch she sets out for a jog, while only a few kilometers away a boatful of African refugees washes ashore. Soon their paths will cross. For Emilie, the encounter with the refugees - their hunger and impoverishment - is a wake-up call and a turning point in her own life.

Moment of Honesty (Ærlighetsminuttet)

Young Adult Novel | Aschehoug | 2005 | 549 pages

On seventeen, Frida is diagnosed with a serious eye disease. Desperate, her mind reeling, she spends the evening of the day she receives this devastating news walking aimlessly about the streets of Oslo. Driven by an intense desire to see the world before blindness overcomes her, she decides to travel. To see the world's beauty – before it is too late. We follow the deterioration of Frida's condition much as one follows the plot of a thriller.

The book is beautifully illustrated by reproductions of all the 33 paintings the main characters admire throughout their journey.
