Marie Aubert

Can I Come Home with You (Kan jeg bli med deg hjem)

Short stories | Forlaget Oktober | 2016 | 117 pages

The stories in Marie Aubert's first book are about people on the verge of breaking out – from friendships, marriages and relationships. They all do things they are ashamed of, while clinging to the idea that they are leaving for something greater.

A worn-out father hits his daughter and tries to stop her from telling others. A sixteen year old girl sneaks into somebody else's house. A young woman has bruises on her body and doesn't know if she likes it. A man goes to South America with his wife to adopt a boy, but finds himself drawn to a slightly too old girl.

HIGHLIGHTS - Fiction Short Story Collections

Ingvild H. Rishøi

Winter Stories (Vinternoveller)

Short Stories | Gyldendal | 2014 | 136 pages

It is impossible to remain unscathed by Ingvild H. Rishøi's writing. No other writer produces better depictions of the vulnerability and fragility of humankind, of how unpredictable a grey everyday life can be. Her short stories have the capacity to deeply move a reader without compromising any of their literary quality or psychological depth. Winter Stories are about fleeing on a train, about karaoke, shopping malls and snow, and about how immensely difficult buying a pillow can be. But first and foremost, Winter Stories are three tales of love. Three stories about people who mean well, who do their best, but don't always succeed.

Winner of the Swedish Kulturhuset Stadsteaterns Internationella litteraturpris 2019, the Critics' Prize 2014, the Brage Prize 2014, the Norwegian Book Blogger Award 2014

Gunnhild Øyehaug

Knots (Knutar)

Short stories | Kolon forlag | 2012 | 108 pages

A displeased deer, a man tied to his mother by an un-severable umbilical cord, a young woman who is secretly in love with her terminally ill best friend, a slightly peculiar UFO: Gunnhild Øyehaug's acclaimed short stories balance between the sensuous, the surrealistic and the comic.
