

Per Arne Totland

CRIME FICTION NOVEL

Everything Will Be Hidden in One Hundred Years
Om hundre år er allting gjemt

Cappelen Damm 2015
480 Pages
English sample translation available

In 1924, the Norwegian government was forced to enter into a secret agreement giving the Soviet Union control of Svalbard in 2020.

But this document soon went missing under unclear circumstances, and the agreement was forgotten. It resurfaces more than ninety years later. In a time when Europe is standing against an aggressive Russia that wants to be a superpower in the far north of the world. The Russian president implements a comprehensive plan to undermine Norwegian sovereignty in Svalbard. The battle for the Arctic gains a new dimension, and drama unfolds in Longyearbyen.

Everything Will Be Hidden in One Hundred Years is an international thriller that reflects the political conflict that already existed when the Svalbard Treaty was entered into in 1920 and that may flare up again as the eyes of the world look to the Arctic.

PHOTO: KJELL RUBEN STRØM

Per Arne Totland (b. 1958) has been a newspaper reporter, a reporter with Norwegian Broadcasting, director of a global construction company and manager of a consultancy agency. He is now an independent adviser to top business managers.

FOREIGN SALES

Slovakia (Premedia)

RIGHTSHOLDER

Cappelen Damm Agency
NO-0055 Oslo
Tel: +47 21 61 65 00
foreignrights@cappelendamm.no
www.cappelendamm.no

'A wellcomposed thriller.
Frighteningly close to current political realities.'

Forsvarets forum (The Magazine of the Norwegian Armed Forces)

'The author manages to come under the reader's skin. The novel is recommended both as a source of insight into conflicts in the Arctic, and as pure entertainment.'

Adresseavisen

'The battle for the Arctic is given a new dimension in this interesting first novel.'

Vårt Land