

Kristin Sandberg

Iris - Alone

Iris eneboeren

Genre: Children And Young Adults
Category: Novel
Year: 2007
Pages: 268

It is not easy being 13-year old Iris. Her parents have not spoken to each other since they divorced four years ago. They only communicate by SMS texts, which means that misunderstandings are bound to happen, and they do, three weeks before Christmas. Iris comes home to her father's house and it is empty. Both her parents have gone abroad with work and no one realises that Iris is home alone. And she has no intention of telling anyone either – because it is embarrassing to have parents who do not talk. She does not even want to tell her best friend, Camilla.

Over the course of a few days, Iris' life becomes more exciting, scary and serious than she could ever have imagined. Meanwhile a drama is unfolding elsewhere in Europe. A boy of the same age is fighting another battle. A battle of life and death.

An exciting and dramatic book about irresponsible parents, fragile friendship and new friends.

EGO Life. For ages 11–14 years.

Damm 2007

Sandberg has written several novels both for adults and children since her debut in 1991.

SELECTED RECENT TITLES:

"Verdens ondeste stemor", 2004
"Ikke vondt ment", 2005
"Drita lei damer", 2007
"Iris - eneboeren", 2007
"Iris - skjebnehjulet", 2008

Rightsholder

Cappelen Damm Agency
NO-0055 Oslo
Phone: +47 21 61 65 00
foreignrights@cappelendamm.no
www.cappelendamm.no

