Complete English sample translation available

Everybody is afraid of something. All the fathers, all the mothers and all the children. Not all the time, but it happens. Some people are afraid of angry bears, others are afraid of not having enough money. Some may be afraid of going to school. And some people are afraid of being too happy. Others are afraid of fear itself. But sometimes fear may be useful. Fear may tell you how to avoid danger. Fear may be your friend. Say hello to Fear!

Illustrated by Yokoland.

'This is a very useful book. The simple and seemingly random surface gives room for personal discoveries and an exploration of concepts.'
